WHY IS DOTHAN NUTS ABOUT PEANUTS?

Peanuts haven't always ruled the soil in our part of the world. At one time, it was all about "King Cotton".

Unfortunately by the 1920s, the boll weevil had taken over most of the cotton fields in the South, and farmers were left with destroyed fields and empty pockets heading into the Great Depression. Enter Dr. George Washington Carver who, during his time as a professor of agriculture at Tuskegee University, had discovered over 300 uses for the peanut. He found that peanuts weren't just tasty, but their oils were conducive to cooking, cosmetics, and pharmaceuticals. He also introduced field rotation to area farmers, showing that fields can be exhausted by continual planting. Luckily for the Wiregrass, the sandy soil on the farm lands was the perfect growing environment for shallow peanut plants.

Peanuts quickly revitalized farming around Dothan, and in present-day, 50% of the world's peanuts are grown within a 100 mile radius of Dothan. If you're eating a jar of peanut butter, chances are that you are consuming peanuts grown by Dothan area farmers. And no, peanuts are not technically considered a nut! They are members of the legume family, more related to the pea than the nut. So in the end, we have the boll weevil to thank for our booming agricultural economy in Dothan. So much so that our neighbors to the east in Enterprise raised a statue in honor of the boll weevil. But mostly, we have Dr. Carver and his tireless research to thank, which is why you'll find him forever honored on murals and in museums in Dothan.

WHY ARE THERE SO MANY PEANUT STATUES?

What began as a downtown fundraiser evolved into a city-wide art project with businesses decorating fiberglass peanut statues created by Replica Plastics. Known as Peanuts Around Town, these statues are scattered across Dothan, forming a unique city signature. Grab your car, this map, and a sense of adventure. Take on the peanut hunt challenge, perfect for discovering Dothan or keeping kids busy over school breaks.
